NOMINATION OF COMMISSIONERS

Primary Will be Held April 24.

New Charter Provides That Nominations For Commissioners and Judge of Municipal Court Shall Be Held On Second Monday Preceding General Election—Candidates Must File Notice Ten Days Before Primary and Deposit Fee.

Now that the new charter providing the commission plan of government has been adopted the thoughts of the people naturally turn towards the selection of those who will fill the various offices. The charter provides that on the second Monday preceding the general election there shall be held a primary at which candidates for the respective offices, including judge of Municipal court, shall be nominated.

That good men will be secured is conceded by practically all, even those who fought the new charter so strenuously. While they think it would have been best to have voted the charter down they say that they are not going to place their judgment against a majority of 340 but are determined to lend every possible assistance in making the charter prove a success in Greensboro.

While as yet no names, except that of Mr. W. T. Sergeant, who has most acceptably filled the position of commissioner of water and lights for a number of years, have been suggested, it is expected that names will be presented for the consideration of the voters before many days. Those who advocated the new charter state that while there is no special hurry the voters should have ample time to consider the qualifications of each candidate. One of the advocates stated yesterday that he hoped the voters would pledge themselves to no candidates until the entire list is placed before them and then only after careful consideration.

The law provides that all announcements of candidacy, accompanied by a deposit of $5, shall be filed with the city clerk on or before April 14, 10 days before the primary on April 24. The city clerk shall for three successive days publish in the city papers the names of the candidates as they shall appear on the ballots as prescribed in the charter, and this over a fac simile of his signature. The election this year will be held upon Tuesday, May 2.

The city shall be divided into two precincts, or more if deemed necessary and polling places provided near the center of each precinct. On the first Monday in March a registrar and two judges shall be appointed for each precinct in the city, the registration books to be open for ten days, and closed on the second Saturday before the primary election.

The two candidates for any one office receiving the highest number of votes in the primary shall be declared the only candidates to be voted for for that office in the general election. In case two men for the same office receive an equal number of votes in the primary a second primary shall be held to break the tie.

The charter provides that every candidate in the city election or primary, or both, shall within ten days after the election or primary is held submit to the city clerk a statement showing all expenditures made by himself or by anyone for him to his knowledge for the purpose of promoting his candidacy, said statement to be made under oath.

WILL LECTURE ON STONEWALL JACKSON

George R. Wendling to Be Here on Next Monday Evening—Lecture Attraction.

On next Monday evening George R. Wendling will give his celebrated lecture on "Stonewall Jackson," this entertainment being the fifth of the Lyceum attractions to be given in Greensboro this season. The lecture will be in the West Market Street Methodist church annex. Mr. Wendling is one of the best known lecturers on the Southern platform and a rare treat is in store for all who hear him. His descriptive power is shown to a marvelous degree in his portrayal of some of the incidents of Jackson's life, especially in his stand at Bull Run. His interpretation of the life of the hero of the Confederacy is such that no other lecturer can surpass, if equal him in this lecture.

D. M. BENNETT DIED YESTERDAY

Aged Citizen Passed Away At Home of Mrs. R. E. Pearce, Fifth Avenue—Survived by Wife and Eleven Children—Funeral This Morning From Late Residence.

Mr. D. M. Bennett died yesterday morning at 2:45 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Pearce, 518 Fifth avenue, following an illness of several months. Mr. Bennett suffered a stroke of apoplexy about eight months ago and a second stroke followed in two months. For some days he was in a critical condition, but rallied and until three weeks ago was able to sit in his chair.

Since that time he had been unable to leave his bed and his strength gradually grew weaker. His strong constitution alone enabled him to survive the apoplexy strokes last summer and when pneumonia settled on his lungs less than a month ago the strain was too great.

Mr. Bennett was nearly 82 years of age and was born and raised in Guilford county. He was married to Miss Ward, daughter of Rev. Ward, and of this union were born 11 children, all surviving him, as does Mrs. Bennett. The children are Messrs. James, W. P., Charles, John and T. M. Bennett, Mrs. R. E. Pearce, Mrs. John Ray, Mrs. Bob Howerton, Mrs. John Cook, Mrs. Lin Lineberry and Mrs. John Heath. All live in Greensboro excepting the latter three daughters.

Mr. Bennett was a member of Holt's chapel Methodist church, east of the city, near which he lived until a year ago when he moved to the city, since which time he lived with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pearce. During the Civil war he served as a seaman on a Confederate gunboat that plied between Norfolk and Richmond. When the gunboat fleet was blown up to prevent the supplies on board being seized by the federal soldiers Mr. Bennett was the last man to leave his boat after the fuse had been applied. He was a Mason of long standing.

The funeral will be held from the late residence this morning at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. K. McLarty, assisted by Rev. J. E. Woosley, of Proximity. The interment will be in Green Hill cemetery. The pall-bearers will be Messrs. G. H. McKinney, H. S. Patterson, R. M. Rees, J. W. Knight, S. S. Mitchell, J. W. Whitt.

PHILATHEA OFFICERS.

Class of Centenary Church Holds Annual Meeting—Delightful Time.

The regular monthly meeting of the Philathea class of Centenary church was held at the home of Miss Lee Pitts, West Lee street, Tuesday night, there being a large attendance. The semi-annual election of officers took place and a very interesting meeting was held. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. L. C. Smith; vice president, Miss Virginia Townsend; secretary, Miss Jessie Turner; and treasurer, Miss Emma Elliott.

After the business session a social hour was spent. The young ladies always have delightful times at their meetings and certainly this was no exception. Miss Pitts invited them to the dining room where she served delicious refreshments. The meeting then adjourned to meet the first Tuesday night in March.

May Live Here.

Manager E. C. Deal, of the Public Service Company, has received a letter from Mr. J. Hillen Jenkins, of Baltimore, asking him to look out for a location in Greensboro for him. Mr. Deal communicated with real estate men, both in Greensboro and High Point. From the tone of the letter it appeared that Mr. Jenkins was considering making Greensboro his home. Mr. Jenkins is one of the Baltimore capitalists who spent last Saturday in the city.

Holding Meeting Here.

The traveling salesmen of the local branch of the J. I. Case Machine Company are in the city to discuss the progress of the work during the past year and considering plans for doing a still better work this year. Mr. O. R. Randall, of Racine, Wis., arrived last night to go over the situation with the salesmen. Tonight the force will have a banquet at the Huffine.

Don't forget the oyster supper Friday, Feb. 10, 5 to 10 p. m. in the dining room, rear of Public Service Company, for the benefit of the Moravian church. Chicken salad will also be served.

BILL NYE DAY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Supt. Joyner Designates Feb. 22.

State Superintendent Calls Upon Superintendents and Teachers To Co-operate With Press In Contributing Toward the Erection of the Memorial Building At the Stonewall Jackson Training School—Program Prepared.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner has designated February 22 as "Bill Nye Day" in the public schools of the state, setting aside one hour on that day for the teachers to lay before the children some facts regarding the noble work being done by the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training School in caring for wayward youth and ask them to co-operate with the editors of the state in erecting a building as a memorial to Bill Nye. Supt. Joyner issues the following letter regarding the movement:

To the County Superintendents and the Public School Teachers:

The public press of North Carolina has always responded generously and unselfishly to every call of the public schools for service, and no agency has been more potent in promoting the development of these schools and the progress of education in the state. The county superintendents and the public school teachers now have an opportunity to express their appreciation of this service, and to render at the same time a valuable service to a most worthy cause by co-operating heartily with the "Bill Nye Memorial Committee" in their commendable effort to raise funds for the erection of a central or main building at the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training School, to be known as the "Bill Nye Memorial building."

The committee has prepared an interesting program for the celebration of Bill Nye day in the public schools. An hour devoted to honoring the memory of such a man, who loved all children and all men, who devoted his splendid talents to making them happier and better through his writings, will be properly and profitably spent.

I earnestly request and urge the county superintendent of each county to distribute these programs to the public school teachers of the county, accompanied by a letter to each teacher, directing the setting apart of an hour in the school for this celebration, and urging the hearty co-operation of the teacher for the success of the celebration.

The noble work of the Stonewall Jackson Training School for giving wayward boys of the State a chance to have a chance to be trained into good citizens should appeal strongly to the hearts of the children of the public schools, who but for the mercy of God might be like these wayward boys. It is a privilege, therefore, for these children to have an opportunity to make a contribution to such a work. It will do them good. I earnestly urge, therefore, that county superintendents and teachers lend their hearty co-operation in securing at least a penny contribution from every child in the public schools for the erection of the Bill Nye Memorial building for increasing the facilities at the State's school for training wayward boys.

I designate Wednesday, the 22d day of February, for this celebration. I suggest that the teacher devote an hour on this day to reading to the pupils this booklet and to arousing an enthusiastic interest in Bill Nye and his work and in the work of the Stonewall Jackson Training school, concluding the exercises with an earnest appeal for a contribution of at least one penny from every child, to be brought next morning.

All contributions should be forwarded by the teacher or the principal of the school to Mr. R. W. Vincent, secretary of the Bill Nye Memorial committee, Charlotte, N. C., and they will be acknowledged in the columns of the Charlotte Observer.

Street Car and Carriage Collide.

Yesterday afternoon near the South Elm street railroad crossing a street car and a street carriage collided, the damage being of little consequence. The car was rolling across the tracks, going north, and the driver wheeled the carriage directly in front of the car. However, the motorman made a quick stop and the only damage was the ripping of the rubber tire from a rear wheel.

YESTERDAY WITH THE LAWMAKERS

Number of Matters Were Considered.

Income Tax Provision Ratified—Bachelors Protest Against Being Taxed—Judicial District Bill Re-referred to Judicial Committee—Bill For Bond Issue For Administration Building Goes to Committee on Appropriations.

Raleigh, Feb. 8.—A number of bills were considered in the senate and house today, chiefly being the bill for a bond issue and the income tax resolution. The more important proceedings follow:

The Senate.

The senate convened at 11 o'clock. President Newland presiding and Rev. R. T. Vann, D. O., president of Meredith College, offering prayer.

Petitions Presented.

Gardner, of Cleveland: From bachelors of Hendersonville, Henderson county, protesting against the Ewart bill taxing dogs, bachelors and justices of the peace of Henderson county.

Graham, of Orange: From Elon Council Junior Order urging that the Bible be used as a text book in the public schools.

Reinhardt, of Lincoln: From citizens of Lincoln county against the sale of near beer and the handling of liquor by clubs.

Hobgood, of Guilford: From Council 296, U. C. T., of Greensboro, relative to exchanging mileage for tickets.

New Bills Offered.

Gardner, of Cleveland: Provide for maintenance of the A. & M. College, at Raleigh, by appropriating annually $90,000 for maintenance and $80,000 annually for permanent improvements.

Hobgood, of Guilford: Enlarge the powers of Winding Creek school district, Guilford county.

Martin, of Buncombe: Amend the charter of the city of Asheville by providing a commission form of government.

Greene, of Craven: Permit the sale of pure beer and wines in North Carolina. Referred to the committee on propositions and grievances.

Bills Ratified.

In a message from the house twenty local bills were received and they were appropriately referred.

The bill to provide for a standard of measuring tan bark was reported favorably and on motion of Senator Sigmon re-referred to the committee on agriculture.

The bill to divide the state into twenty judicial districts received a favorable report and on motion of Senator Pharr was re-referred to the committee on judicial districts for further consideration.

The Boyden bill to appoint a state building commission and authorize the governor and state treasurer to issue $1,000,000 in bonds to erect a state administration building in Raleigh, came up as a special order at 12 o'clock and for the next two hours was debated by a dozen or more senators, the general opinion prevailing that there is a great need for such a building but the senators differed in their ideas as to the amount necessary for its construction. Senator Boyden made a statement explaining the provisions of the bill and answering a number of questions. He argued that there is an imperative pressing necessity for the building and that the legislature should meet the demand fearlessly and patriotically and erect a modern fire proof building to accommodate the increasing need for room by the different state departments and furnish a safe and secure place for the priceless state records and records.

Sensors Greene, Pharr, Johnson, Bassett, Sikes, Graham, Thorne, Hartsett, McLaughlin, Hobgood, Cox, favored the bill. Senator Haymore offered an amendment calling for a bond issue of $150,000 and referred to the illiterate children of the state and other claims that must be faced. Senators Bassett, Brown and Sikes retorted that Mr. Haymore's party was responsible for conditions, which would be much worse but for the fact that the Democrats secured control of the state. Senator Sikes declared that the curse for illiteracy should be placed upon the parent, as the state has provided ample facilities for educating the children. The bill was referred to the committee on appropriations. The senate at 2:10 adjourned until tonight at 8 o'clock.

The House.

Speaker Dowd convened the house at 11 o'clock by Speaker Dowd. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Caveness of Warrenton. A number of petitions were presented by representatives from constituents urging the passage of the bill to provide a fire-proof state administration building.

Pace: From factory women asking for sixty-hour day labor act. From employees of the Atlantic Coast Line in the Rocky Mount shops against the Connor bill for employees involving the A. C. L. Relief Association.

The senate bill to increase the salary of the governor to $8,000 came from the committee on salaries and fees with favorable report.

New Bills.

Kirkman: Allow High Point to issue bonds for floating debt.

Spainhour: Protect innocent deaf, and dumb and blind women.

Williams of Buncombe: Establish teacher training school for Western North Carolina. Amend the charter of Asheville and provide for commission form of government.

Williams: Amend the Revisal relative to charges for board and tuition at the State Normal College.

Income Tax Ratified.

The house considered as special order for some time the joint resolution ratifying the income tax amendment to the federal constitution, refusing to allow a continuance of the measure until Representative Dillard, of Cherokee, could be in the hall. It was strenuously opposed by Representative Buck, of Yancey county, as against democratic principle. Connor, Doughton and Battle advocated the ratification. The resolution passed 88 to 4, the latter being Stubbs, Thompson, Teague and Buck.

The Ross Insurance Bill.

The Ross bill to protect the insurance companies and the people of the state coming up for third reading, it was strongly opposed by Connor, Wooten, Bryan and others and a long contest was precipitated. The bill provides that citizens insuring in companies not licensed to do business in this state shall pay the 5 per cent tax on the premiums to the state treasurer. The charge against the bill was that it is an infringement on the liberties of the citizen and an effort to effectually exclude all companies from the state who are not in the Southeastern Tariff Association.

In defense of the bill Mr. Ross insisted that it is largely a revenue bill drawn by the attorney general of the state and the state commissioner of insurance and was expected to bring into the state about $35,000 additional revenue and would protect citizens from irresponsible insurance companies not subject to and actually evading the North Carolina law. There was opposition by Kellum of New Hanover, Taylor of Brunswick, Wallace on the ground that it would prevent citizens from getting cheaper insurance than the Southeastern Tariff Association provides. Mr. Koonce raised the issue that some companies now having license in the state might drop license and do business on this five per cent basis as cheaper than the state burden they now carry. The discussion went on at great length and finally a motion by Mitchell to table the bill was lost 28 to 50 and the bill passed final reading 37 to 23. However, it developed that Speaker Pro Tem. Doughton, in the chair, had failed to submit pending amendments to a vote before the main question and the whole matter of the bill on final reading was declared open. A motion to adjourn got in before the votes could be taken and the house adjourned to 8 o'clock.

HAS HEADQUARTERS HERE.

Mr. W. H. Valentine, State Manager of American National Insurance Company, Locates in Greensboro.

Mr. William H. Valentine, State manager for North Carolina of the American National Insurance Company, of Galveston, Texas, after investigating several North Carolina cities decided to locate in Greensboro and has rented office in the Benbow Arcade building. Mr. Valentine visited the city last week, and soon after his arrival visited the Chamber of Commerce to obtain information in regard to Greensboro. He was so favorably impressed with the facts gathered in regard to Greensboro that he decided to make it state headquarters for his company.

The American National does a large business and Greensboro will be the repository for premiums collected on all insurance issued on citizens of this state, which fact means an increase in the bank deposits of the city.

Mr. Valentine has had many years experience in the insurance business. He expects to move his family here in the very near future.

MURDERER IS STILL AT LARGE

Lewis West Has Not Been Captured.

Thought At One Time That He Had Been Caught In Swamp—Thousand Spent Day Searching For Him, Despite Rain—Two Negroes In Jail At Raleigh Believed To Be Accomplices.

Wilson, Feb. 8.—Lewis West, the negro murderer had not been caught late tonight, despite the fact that more than a thousand people spent the day searching in spite of the rain for the fugitive, confident that they are on the right trail.

Wilson, Feb. 8.—Wilson was again thrown in a fever of excitement this evening upon telephone advises that Lewis West, slaver of Deputy Sheriff Mumford, had been captured in a Greene county swamp where a posse tracked him last night. Under heavy guard he was taken to Wilson on a special train tonight, but upon arrival there it was found that he was Abel Williams, another negro, who said he was on his way to visit his cousin when run down by the posse. Chief of Police Glover is improving today.

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—State authorities are waiting anxiously this afternoon for news from the search for Lewis West, the negro who shot to death Deputy Sheriff Mumford and probably fatal wounding of Chief of Police Glover, of Wilson, interest in which was redoubled last night by the report that armed posses of officers and citizens had the fugitive surrounded in a swamp near Hookerton, Greene county. The information was that immense crowds of armed citizens were flocking to the scene and the capture of the negro dead or alive was hourly expected. However, no news is getting to be construed to be bad news in that it is feared that the fiend has again eluded his pursuers or that this was another false alarm. Jim Simms and the Stetson negro, held as accomplices, are in the state's prison here for safe-keeping lest they be taken from the Wilson jail and lynched. The prison warden received a telegram from Weldon this morning that the belief is strong there that these two negroes are the perpetrators of the recent dastardly murder of a woman at Roanoke Rapids and asking that they be held, whatever the developments in the Wilson affair, until investigation as to this suspicion can be completed.

HISTORICAL SKETCHES.

Rev. James E. Hall to Speak at Moravian Church Sunday on History of Church.

Rev. James E. Hall, of Clemmons, will fill the pulpit at the Moravian church Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Hall will devote both services to giving historical sketches of the Moravian church, historically known as "Unitas Fratrum," or the Brethren's Unity. The public is invited to hear him upon both occasions. The subject for the morning address will be the "Ancient Brethren's church," and for the evening "Renewed Brethren's church." This church has a very interesting history. The name Moravian is derived from the country of Moravia, where the church formerly had some of its principal seats and whence those refugees came by whom it was resuscitated in Saxony, Germany. There are three eras in the history of the Moravian church. In addition to the two epochs upon which Rev. Hall will speak, there is the middle epoch known as the "Hidden Seed," when the church was in dispersion from the year 1656 to 1722. The history of the church dates back to 1457. Rev. Hall is well prepared to present a subject of this nature, being thoroughly familiar with his church's history and having traveled extensively in foreign fields.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Greensboro Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Greensboro readers.

J. J. Foster, Mendenhall St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for a long time. I had severe pains through the small of my back and was caused annoyance by irregular passage of the kidney secretions. I also noticed that the kidney secretions contained sediment, and were unnatural. While I was suffering from a severe attack of that kind, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and their use gave me permanent relief. It is with pleasure that I express my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

LET BOYS REVEL IN PIE.

Give Youngsters All They Ask For, Says Physician—Allow Them to Lie in Bed.

Baltimore Sun.

That hitherto friendless wight—the boy with the insatiable appetite for pie, who pleads with his mother for more in spite of all of her attempts to shame him—is friendless no longer.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, the New York physician, whose articles on how to be healthy have covered so many pages in so many magazines during the last few years, says:

"Give the boy all the pie he wants. When he gets enough he'll know it. His system craves it or he wouldn't ask for it."

Then there's another hitherto friendless one in whose behalf Dr. Hutchinson lifts up his voice—the youngster who always growls "Yes'm" when his mother calls him in the morning and then turns over and goes to sleep again.

"Let him sleep," says Dr. Hutchinson. "He needs the sleep; if he didn't he wouldn't object to getting up."

Dr. Hutchinson goes even farther than this. "If a baby doesn't want to eat breakfast food and does want to eat good candy, give it good candy. Good candy is better for it than breakfast food." Of course, he makes the stipulation that the candy must be good, but he does say that there is frequently more wisdom in the baby's cry for what it wants than there is in the overcareful care of the mother, for the body usually expresses its needs, and if those needs are supplied the body will be benefited.

It is on this principle that he justifies what he says about the boy with the pie mouth. "Let the boy eat all the pie he wants, even if gorging himself," says Dr. Hutchinson. "Once he has eaten more than his body needs he'll quit crying for it and, stealing to the pantry when mother or the cook isn't looking, steal the forbidden sweets."

As for sleeping, our fathers and mothers who call us lazy because we didn't get up the very instant we were called were wrong. "Everybody should get 10 hours sleep, man or woman," says Dr. Hutchinson. "Children, when they are, say, 14 years old, sometimes require 12 or 13 hours' sleep. The constructive processes which are going on in the human body during childhood are usually more active when the child is asleep than when he is awake."

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Texas, as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me.

Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years." Quick safe, sure, its the best remedy on earth for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup and all throat and lung troubles. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

PHILADELPHIA BANQUET

Governors Wilson and Harmon and Champ Clark to Speak.

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—Plans announced yesterday afternoon for the big Democratic reunion and banquet on February 21 by the Banquet Committee of the Democratic Club indicate that the dinner will be one of the events of the year in political circles and will set the high-water mark for such celebrations on the part of the Democrats of Pennsylvania. The affair will be held at the Bellevue-Stratford on February 21, probably in the ballroom, if the stream of subscriptions continue to flow in as it has done in the last few days. Subscriptions have been placed at $5 a plate, and more than 500 representative Democrats of this and surrounding States are expected to attend.

Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, has sent his definite promise to be present and speak; Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio, is almost certain to accept the pressing invitation that has been sent to him; Speaker-to-be Champ Clark, of the National House of Representatives, recognized as the present leader of the party in Congress, is expected to be among the speakers. Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, of Stroudsburg, who has lately loomed large as a leader in the Pennsylvania delegation and in the party in Washington, will speak to the toast "Pennsylvania," and ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, of Philadelphia, will toast the city. The toastmaster has not been chosen but it is understood that he will also be a man of more than State wide reputation and importance.

Acceptances have been pouring in from every part of the state during the last few days, and the Banquet Committee, which is headed by Otto Wolff, is so sanguine of having a large and representative attendance that they have sent out a special request that all members and others who wish to have places reserved for themselves to send in their requests at the earliest possible moment to avoid being shut out at the last minute. Among those who attended yesterday's meeting of the committee, held at the Democratic Club rooms, No. 1339 Walnut street, were Otto Wolff, chairman; W. W. Roper, Roland S. Morris, John Cadwalader, John Cadwalader, Jr., George W. Norris, ex-Judge Theodore F. Jenkins, A. D. Wiler, Emanuel Firth, Samuel K. Loucheim and George W. Gibbons. Names of prospective guests should be sent to Mr. Wolff, Betz Building, or to John D. Samuel, treasurer, at No. 2015 Pine St.

Held For Ransom

On a certain summer's afternoon Mr. James Gilbert of Gilbert's bank in a town we will call Hopedale opened the telephone in his private office to be greeted by a strange humming of the wires. Then two or three voices began calling and talking. Then some one used energetic language to central, and she answered resentfully. Then came a voice that gave the banker a start. It had been two years since he heard it. From the jingle of voices he made out the words:

"Auto ran over calf; pay $10; farmer won't let me go; no money; hurry up. Hello, central; hello, hello! Oh, dear!" The banker smiled. Two years before while fishing from the wharf and before establishing the bank a summer girl from the hotel on the hill had come paddling about in her store made canoe. He saw at once that she was a novice. He saw also that she had not yet passed her twentieth year and was his style of beauty. For a young man of twenty-four who had fished a full hour without a nibble Mr. Gilbert was in luck.

Of course the owner of the canoe was bound to show off. It was only her second voyage in the birch bark, but she thought she knew all the canoe tricks and was ready to resent any advice. She wasn't tendered any to resent, however. The young man contented himself with taking off his coat and slipping off his shoes. When the canoe turned turtle he was ready. He took a long dive and came to the surface with the choking, struggling girl in his arms and reached the shore with her.

That evening he appeared at the hotel to be effusively thanked by Judge Henrys, the father, and by the grateful, if chagrined, canoeist. Several other evenings saw him there as well, and between talking politics with the father and canoeing with Miss Kitty the time was passed very pleasantly. Something was said about correspondence when father and daughter left for their home in the city. As a matter of fact two or three letters did pass, and then Uncle Sam's carriers failed to deliver. The young banker had puzzled a bit, as perhaps had some one else, and now, on account of the crossed wires, he was hearing her voice again.

What had that voice said? It was trying to reach some one at the hotel on the hill, but evidently making a failure of it. The owner was in trouble somewhere. It looked as if she had gone out in an auto and run down a calf and the farmer was holding her until the damages were settled. The banker thought for a moment and then ordered his auto around.

Which way? He had trusted to luck once and would again. Out of town by the west highway—over the bridge—up the long hill and then straight ahead for five miles. Far ahead he saw an auto beside the road with two female figures in it and a farmer in sulky attitude leaning against the fence. The females in the auto were Miss Henrys and a girl friend. There was handshaking and introductions, and Miss Kitty explained:

"We were coming along at about ten miles an hour when the calf ran in front of the machine. I was willing to pay damages, but had no money, and the man here would not take one of my rings."

"I hadn't taking no rings any more. Feller come along here last summer and run over my old woman and then left a diamond ring that turned out to be glass."

He was given his money by the banker.

Of course Mr. Gilbert had to call at the summer hotel that evening to talk the matter over. There was something that the young people wanted to say, but they couldn't say it until after Judge Henrys had poured out his thanks and remembered that he had to meet a man in the lobby. Even after he had departed the matter lingered, but it was very soon cleared up.

Two weeks later, in the banker's auto, Miss Kitty and Mr. Gilbert went spinning over the west road. So earnest was their talk that they failed to note that they were drawing near the farm where the calf accident had occurred. They were forcibly reminded of the locality, however, when a hog suddenly rose from the wayside ditch in front of the farmhouse and reached the center of the road just in time to be converted into fresh pork. The farmer was looking on, and he came out to say, and looking at Miss Kitty as he said it:

"Ding my buttons, if you haven't went and gone and done it ag'in!"

"Of course I'll pay," said the banker as he took out his purse. "How much is it?"

"You needn't say anything to the gal about it, but I'll make it an even $8."

"You are very generous," was the reply as the money was handed over.

"What was he talking about?" asked the young lady as the banker returned to the auto and they proceeded.

"Um! He appears to be very sensible."

"But what was the talk about?" "Oh, he—he said I ought to get married."

The young lady looked off into the fields and made no reply, and ten long minutes after he had spoken the banker added:

"And I think so too."

And a year later he did.

Captain E. Briggs Baldwin, himself a scientific explorer, and a man of high repute, has given out a statement on behalf of Doctor Cook to the effect that he can prove that the Doctor did reach the Pole. The Doctor may yet be vindicated. But whether he is or not, he is hard to down, and if he dies he will die with his armor on.

Greensboro covered herself with glory by being the first city in North Carolina to adopt a progressive form of government. Well done, Greensboro!—Asheville Citizen.

It is a pleasure to reproduce this expression from the Citizen. Our contemporary is doing yeoman's work for the commission form in Asheville and we hope that Asheville will be the next North Carolina city to catch step with the onward movement in municipal government.

On Monday King George opened the first Parliament of his reign. The occasion was attended with almost as much pomp and ceremony as if it had been the time of his coronation or of a royal wedding. His message to the Parliament was listened to with deep and all-absorbing interest, for there is no better way to judge the character and purpose of a ruler than to hear his voice as it expresses his purposes and, in a great measure, his ideals, as well as his desires. The two great and vital questions now confronting the English people; namely, creation of more Liberal peers, and woman's suffrage, were not given any attention. Thus, King George is to see some very interesting times in the early part of his reign, and incidentally there will be plenty of absorbing topics for the magazines and newspapers.

The late Maj. Morehead labored unceasingly and unselfishly for Guilford Battle Ground and for a monument to Greene worthy of that great hero. The fruit of his efforts is seen in the removal of the single obstacle to such a monument, namely, the opposition to it in the House of Representatives. Mr. John Motley Morehead had hardly been elected to Congress before Major Morehead was at work seeking his good offices in behalf of the monument appropriation. The Congressman was of a different political faith, but he was a kinsman and of the dominant political power and he was alert for the interests of his district. His sympathies were easily enlisted and his services proved of great value and effectiveness. The statue of Greene will be also a monument to the perseverance and unselfish labors of the late president of the Guilford Battle Ground Company.

BERNHARDT.

The greatest living actress is Sarah Bernhardt, called "the divine Sarah." She is now 67 years of age, is still the idol of the stage, and declares that she will never quit acting. She is so well preserved physically that she is said to appear not more than 45 years of age. One paper says that she attributes her strength and youthful vigor to the use of plenty of water, while another quotes her as giving the credit to work and mental occupation in a vocation which she loves. She perhaps told the reporters what was printed in both papers, and more. One cannot enjoy life who is doing a work for which nature never intended that one to perform. On the other hand, there is such a thing as becoming so much in earnest and so full of zeal for a natural and God-given labor as to neglect the proper care of the body. And if one should ask the great actress if she did not consider rest, relaxation, fresh air, and wholesome food as necessary as frequent draughts and baths, she would answer immediately and with firm conviction born of experience, yes.

DIAZ.

President Diaz, of Mexico, is nearly eighty years of age, and has been elected to the high office of the Presidency for eight consecutive terms. He is now perhaps too weak to put down the rebellion which at present threatens the republic, and the world is beginning to see how necessary were his strength and wisdom in his more virile days over a restless, sensitive, and easily excitable people. The old man will not be able to withstand the pressure much longer, for although his powers of endurance and his physical vigor are wonderful, the early and inevitable end will likely be that the trouble and suspense incident to the present unrest and rebellion will cause his death. Then Mexico must seek for her highest office a man of wisdom, courage, and ability to command in a crisis; in other words, she must find another Diaz, which will indeed be no easy matter. And failing in this, we may expect to see the end of the old man but the beginning of a long siege of war and bloodshed. There are those, however, who take a more hopeful view and say that Diaz is by no means without strength to cope with the situation, and that when the psychological moment arrives he will strike with his old time vigor and that the blow will be hard and effective. And Americans, more than those of other countries, hope that this may prove true. But if such a thing should transpire, the old gentleman would justly have the wonder and admiration of the world and such honor as has been bestowed upon few statesmen and generals in history.

A FEBRUARY DISASTER.

Commission Day Witnesses a Terrible Sight.

Old Church street,
A rainy day,
A hobble skirt,
A girl at bay,

Across the street
Her way did wend
Into a mud hole—
'Tis not the end.

She could not rise.
Oh! Fashion vain.
Her hobble skirt
Couldn't bear the strain.

Two men passed by,
Tho' of laughter full
They galled were
And gave a pull.

The maid arose.
O! shameful sight!
Such mud upon
That skirt so tight.

She slowly turned,
Her way she took Away from all
Who chanced to look.

And when her door
She entered soon,
She fell away
In a terrible swoon.

Moral:

When hobble skirt—
Now ladies all—
You chance to wear
Look out for a fall.

A fright you are
The skirt won't do.
Did you have a fall?
Was that maiden you?

The city has worn
A hobble skirt tight,
But down she fell
And split it alright.

The Commission form
A new fashion will set.
The hoop skirt for spring
Will be seen, I bet!

SOME EXPRESSIONS ON THE AFTER SCHOOL CLUB

J. Y. Joyner, L. L. D., superintendent of public instruction for North Carolina: After examining the plans and methods of work of the After School Club of America, and after reading the commendation of it by some of the ablest educators of this country, in whose judgment about such matters I have the fullest confidence, I feel warranted in heartily commending the club and its work to mothers, teachers, and children.

John W. Zeller, commissioner of schools for Ohio: I have carefully examined the plans, purposes, and work of the After School Club of America, and desire to express my hearty approval of this movement in the interest of right reading. It must be admitted by all friends of education that the question of what books the child reads out of school is all important, not alone as regards his better success in his studies, but especially from the viewpoint of character-training. This age is of specialization, and so vast is the world of books that it is the part of wisdom to entrust direction in home reading only to those who are experts.

Martin G. Brumbaugh, superintendent of schools of Philadelphia: The After School Club, organized in this city, is officered and supported by some of the most disinterested and capable men of affairs in Philadelphia. I have carefully gone into this work. I like its plans and approve its methods. I believe that the people interested in this have no mercenary or ulterior motive, their one desire being to help childhood in a systematic and rational way.

Rev. W. A. Powell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Toledo, O.: I have examined the literature of the After School Club and the method with great interest and hearty approval. It seems to me an admirable means of stimulating a child's mind to a growing taste for the best things in life and literature. My daughter, Grace, thirteen years old is a member, and her interest and delight in the work is proving a great boon to her.

Greensboro and Raleigh.

Wilmington Star.
Greensboro ought to quit keeping Raleigh awake at night about moving that State Capital. It makes Raleigh anxious to anchor the State capital building by surrounding it with administration buildings. Greensboro ought to be satisfied with being the "Gate City," the "Convention City," and with having an auditorium that breaks all municipal hearts in North Carolina.

An Advanced Step.

Charlotte Chronicle.
We are in a mood to congratulate Greensboro on its expressed determination to secure a government by commission. It is an advanced step, one which this town once raised its foot to take, but put down the foot without having taken it.

A Great Revival.

Rev. E. C. Glenn, who has been conducting a revival at Salisbury, Md., writes a friend here that the meeting was a most successful one, the professions and reclamations numbering between 125 and 150.

The Heirloom.

"An heirloom," explained the farmer's wife to her thirteen-year-old boy, "is something that has been handed down from father to son and in some instances highly prized."
"I'd prize these heirlooms I'm wearing," remarked the youngster, "a good deal more if they wasn't so long in the legs."—Everybody's.

VERY IMPORTANT CLUB MEETING

Woman's Club On Saturday Will Consider An Invitation Graciously Extended by a Similar Organization in Charlotte.

A very important called meeting of the Woman's Club of Greensboro will be held at the Carnegie Library Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, to take action on an invitation extended by the Woman's Club of Charlotte to be with them on Reciprocity day, March 2. The invitation includes the entire club and comes with a cordiality that anticipates an acceptance equally gracious.

A similar invitation has been extended the Woman's Club of High Point, the program being for the two visiting clubs to reach Charlotte on the morning train, be entertained at the homes of the Queen City club members followed by a reception at the home of the president in the afternoon, ending in time to catch the evening train and return home the same night.

The occasion promises to be a most delightful one and cannot fail to be helpful, alike to home club and visitors, offering, as it does, an opportunity for the exchange of ideas and discussions of means and methods for successfully carrying on club work in its several departments.

Members of the Greensboro club are urged to be present Saturday afternoon, in order that a definite answer accompany suitable acknowledgements of this courtesy. The business to be disposed of will not occupy over a half hour, so that this meeting will not conflict with the literature department, which meets at 4:15, nor with any other meeting which members wish to attend.

Owing to a misunderstanding only a few of the Junior Civic league members were present at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the Smith Memorial building. Another meeting is called, therefore, for next Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, in the same building, and every member of the Junior Civic league, and every boy and girl who wishes to become a member, is asked to be on hand promptly at the hour named. At this meeting plans will be discussed for the Civic day exercises, March 10, it being the intention of the civic department to make the day one of the most interesting in the history of Greensboro. The children are all asked to remember the meeting next Wednesday, and mothers are asked to see that the children attend.

GOT TWELVE MONTHS ON COUNTY ROADS.

Dock Roan, Negro Who Rifled Money Drawer to Work For the County—Several Cases Before Judge Eare.

Officials of the Municipal court yesterday afternoon were blaming the commission form of government for putting them to work so early. Four defendants were sent to the roads and a woman was forwarded to the workhouse as a result of the court proceedings. This, the officials stated, was the first session of court that had sent so many offenders to the roads in some time.

Dock Roan, the negro who was caught with stolen money in his pocket Tuesday night, pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and was given a year on the roads. Dock is the negro who "got in the habit" of opening the cash drawer in the office of the Security Life & Annuity Company and taking small change quite frequently, being caught in a trap Tuesday.

Rufus Wharton, colored, who has an unusual fondness for sauerkraut for a negro, was sent to the roads for four months. Rufus entered the pantry of Mr. J. A. Clapp, East Washington street, and when the cook opened the door was eating kraut in a hurry. He ran but she gave a description and it was easy work to land him in jail.

Cicero Hicks went to the roads for 20 days for beating a ride on a train.

E. F. Roberts, white who imbibed too much "blind tiger" Tuesday, entered a vacant house on Elm street at night to hold a song service. He sang so loud that the residents appealed to the police for help. Roberts continued to sing with much gusto until locked up. Judge Eare gave him thirty days on the roads.

Mrs. N. G. Good, a white woman, pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy and went to the workhouse for thirty days.

FOR SELECTION OF SEED CORN

Meetings To Be Held in County Friday and Saturday For Purpose of Assisting Farmers in Selection of Their Seed Corn in Order That Best Yield May Be Obtained.

Friday and Saturday seed corn meetings will be held in the county, on Friday at Brown Summit and Saturday at High Point. The object of these meetings is to assist the farmers in selecting the best seed corn in order that they may secure the largest possible yield. Last year the meetings were held in Greensboro and as a result the yield was materially increased last year in the vicinity around Greensboro. This year the meetings are held at points easily accessible to those who could not well get to Greensboro and so every section of the county can be benefited by the help of those who have made a careful study of growing corn.

The following letter relative to the seed corn meetings has been sent out by Mr. R. L. Schoolfield, local agent for the Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Work:

Dear Sir: The corn crop is one of the most important in this section of the state. The average yield per acre for a number of years has been very low. As a result, farmers have bought large quantities of corn, paying about a dollar per bushel for it, when, as has been shown by the Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Work, they can easily grow all they need at a cost of about twenty-five cents per bushel, if they will use the best methods and plant the best seed.

In order to assist farmers in these matters we are going to have a seed corn meeting at Brown Summit, Feb. 10 and at High Point, on Feb. 11. We will spend the day studying corn and discussing things pertaining to corn growing. We invite you to come and bring from twenty-five to one hundred ears of your best corn. We will go through it carefully to learn of its good and bad points. From the ears selected at the meeting we hope to have a number of seed farms started to supply a growing demand for good seed. Please invite your neighbors and urge the farmer boys in your community to come and bring corn. Teachers of agriculture, seed growers and members of the Boys' Corn Club movement will be interested in the meeting.

A COMPLAINT

Stokesdale Wants a New Road and Wants It Bad.

Stokesdale, Feb. 8.—The people of Stokesdale and vicinity have gone before the Board of County Commissioners no less than a half dozen times asking them to open and grade a road leading from Stokesdale in a northeasterly direction to the Rockingham county line, but have failed to get the road built. The road now in use has three bridges on it ready to fall in and the road is nothing but a gully. The people of Stokesdale have decided to open up a road at their own expense. Several men living in Rockingham have offered to help build the road so that they may have better facilities for getting to Stokesdale.

DON'T BE THIN.

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fatiguing elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

Howard Gardner, the popular druggist, has sold in the last few weeks, a great many packages of Samose, every one with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money back.

Business men find a banking account absolutely necessary to the proper transaction of their business accounts.

Besides affording the greatest convenience, and assuring the dispatch in the transfers of moneys, accounts paid by checks insures the payer against any possible loss or wrong payment, and when canceled, is the best receipt to be had. But in addition to the necessity of a bank account, there are many ways in which association with a strong bank can further the interests of any business.

"HELEN PINK" A NEW COLOR.

Named for the Debutante Daughter of President Taft.

Wash. Cor. N. Y. World.

Miss Helen Taft's fondness for pink has resulted in the President's daughter being complimented by having a new and exquisite shade of that popular color named for her, and the "Helen pink" promises to have a great vogue in spring and summer fabrics.

The color is a variation of the fashionable coral pink and is shown in three tones, the deepest being almost as dark as a coral. It is, say its sponsors, far less trying to the average person than the old-fashioned rose pinks and is also easy to combine artistically with other shades.

Miss Taft's fondness for pink is proverbial and was never more remarked than when she chose it for the prevailing color of the gown she wore at her coming-out reception. This was a frock of white satin, veiled in chiffon of a pink somewhat like the new shade, Miss Taft's wardrobe contains several fetching creations in pink, which is pronounced by her friends to be "her color." The White House belle's complexion is of a fairness which can stand the challenge of the most trying tones of pink, but she prefers the coral shades which have been so much liked this season.

Miss Taft is not the first White House debutante to be thus honored, for Miss Alice Roosevelt's name was used in the christening of a shade of blue which as the "Alice" was everywhere worn. The enterprising manufacturer who named the "Alice" was cheated of his laurels, for well-nigh every blue put on the market that season was called the "Alice."

The new pink is so distinctive in tone that it cannot readily be duplicated. It is so beautiful that it is assured of a wide popularity, and the "Helen" will reign supreme as fashion's latest cry during the coming spring season.

LA GRIPPE COUGHS.

Strain and weaken the system and if not checked may develop into pneumonia. No danger of this when Foley's Honey and Tar is taken promptly. It is a reliable family medicine for all coughs and colds, and acts quickly and effectively in cases of croup. Refuse substitutes. Howard Gardner.

The man who is looking for trouble is a source of endless wonder to those who can't get away from it."

Home protection is true wisdom. Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve ought to be in every home for its quick relief and prevention of two dangerous diseases and the more common ailments such as Colds, Catarrh, Burns and Chaps.

Cape of Good Hope.

The Cape of Good Hope lies at a considerable distance from the end of South Africa and is, in fact, the middle of the three promontories, severally inconspicuous, which jointly terminate a slender peninsula, some twenty miles in length, forming the barrier between False bay and the Atlantic ocean on the west. These three headlands, lying near together and commonly undivided on a map of moderate scale, are locally designated Cape Point. It was here that Bartholomew Diaz first encountered in full force the prevalent southeasterly gales and denounced the rugged, threatening, threefold promontory under the sounding appellation of the Cape of Storms, to be afterward rechristened by pious, trustful hearts the Cape of Good Hope.

Fueled the Poor Savages.

Robert Louis Stevenson used to relate the following amusing story told him by a south sea trader. He had been in the habit of carrying all sorts of tinned meats, which the natives bought with avidity. Each tin was branded with a colored picture—a cow for beef, a sheep for mutton and a fish for sardines. It happened that the firm which furnished the mutton thought it a good plan to alter its labels, that its goods might be more easily distinguished from the others. The mark chosen was the figure of a frock coated Stiggins-like individual in a chimney pot hat. The natives at once came to the conclusion that the tins contained potted missionary, and there was a great run on the new line of goods.

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

It isn't always the statuesque beauty who gives a fellow the marble heart.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." Howard Gardner.

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed four pieces of a tape worm. He then got a box and in three days he passed a tape-worm 45 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Freck, of Millersburg, Dauphin Co., Pa. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear complexion that it is sold by Howard Gardner under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin. Be sure to ask Howard Gardner for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

WHAT IS VINOL?

It Represents Twenty Years' Work of Two Eminent Chemists.

After twenty years of study two eminent French chemists discovered a method by which the alkaloids or medicinal elements of cod's liver might be separated from the useless oil or grease, retaining all the good of cod liver oil and dispensing with the bad, as the oil has no medicinal value. These medicinal elements blended with tonic iron and a mild medicinal wine—make Vinol.

Vinol is not a secret medicine, as its ingredients are printed on every bottle, and in all cases where the healing, strengthening influence of cod liver oil is needed, Vinol will give better results, for it contains all the curative medicinal properties of cod liver oil, but without the oil, and it is easily assimilated and acceptable to the weakest stomach.

For all run-down, weakened conditions, and to cure chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles, Vinol is unequalled. We sell it always with the understanding that if it does not do all we claim for it, we will refund the money paid for it. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

Whistler as a Horseman.

Boggs, a cadet cavalry officer at West Point academy, was an assistant in the riding hall. On one occasion he overheard Whistler, who thoroughly disliked to ride, objecting strenuously to the horse brought for his use. The horse, he argued, was too heavily built and much too large for a man of his size. Whistler, with much vehemence, urged the man next him to "swap." The man with whom he wished to exchange horses was of muscular build and a "pretty generous size" and his horse a lightweight animal, so it seemed to Whistler that it would be a "most fitting exchange."

"Oh, don't swap! Don't you swap. Mr. Whistler!" cried the dragon. "Yours is a war horse, sir!" "A war horse!" exclaimed Whistler. "That settles it. I certainly don't want him."

"Yes, you do, sir," reiterated the man. "He's a war horse. I tell you, for he'd rather die than run."—Century.

Among Those Present.

Commenting with light irony on the pretensions of a certain nouveau riche, a contributor to Paris Figaro questions whether men of this type are any sillier than those of a past generation who belonged to well known families of long descent.

"There was one of the family of Croy," this contributor writes, "who was fond of showing an old painting of Noah entering the ark and crying out:

"Sauvez les papiers de la maison de Croy!" (Save the records of the house of Croy!)

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Good Cause.

"I worship the ground you walk on," he declared. "Why shouldn't you?" she asked. "It is worth $950 a front foot and pa owns it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you succeed. 520 Laura avenue."

There are times when no man would like his wife to know exactly what he thinks of himself.

Mur, Mammy, and Mother, push your boys out and let them sell Mother's Joy and get the bicycle. It is a great lesson for them. For sale by Conyers & Sykes.

There isn't always a similarity between the glass of fashion and the cup that cheers.

An Open Letter.

Kernersville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1911, Vick's Family Remedies Co., Greensboro, N. C. Gentlemen:—I have used your Croup and Pneumonia Salve for spasmodic asthma and find it superior to anything I have ever tried. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with this disease. Yours truly, Geo. W. Wilson.

Scottish Names.

No country has experienced the difficulty arising from the commonness of one surname in a district more intensely than Scotland. With a whole countryside populated by Campbells, Frasers or Gordons, some more distinguishing nomenclature had to be found. And no doubt this was the chief reason why at one time men were always known by the name of their estate or farm. Dean Ramsay remembered an old cowherd who was always known as Boggy. His real name was Sandy Anderson, but he had once owned a wretched farm called Boggendreep, and he was Boggy to the day of his death.

The X Ray.

The X ray, so called, was discovered on Oct. 8, 1895, by Professor W. O. Roentgen. The professor was experimenting with a Crookes vacuum tube, electrically excited, and enveloped in a black covering, when he noticed that some of the rays proceeding from the tube passed through the black paper and affected a fluorescent screen some two or three yards away. In such way did his great discovery come to him, when he was least expecting it.

Persistent.

"Our Tommy," said the boy's mother, "ought to make a success in life. He shows great determination to stick to anything he undertakes." "Does he?" queried the proud father. "Yes," she replied. "Why, he put in the whole day making soap bubbles and trying to tie a string to them."—Chicago News.

Translated.

"What is this 'wanderlust' you read of so often as compelling people to leave home?" "I don't know," replied Mr. Cumrox; "but, judging from my observation of people who have it, 'wanderlust' is German for 'creditors.'"—Washington Star.

He Was Manager.

"What do you do for a living, Mose?" "I'm de manager ob a laundry." "What's the name of this laundry?" "Eliza Ann."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Worry, whatever its source, weakens, takes away courage and shortens life.

TWAIN

New Edition

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—
25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstol, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Fudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Oppen. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7 1/4 inches.

NATURE SPARES*The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed.

Howard Gardner.

Amending His Constitution.

A well known attorney of heavy build and pompous to a degree, that frequently reaches the state of being overbearing was leaving his office in a Broad street building the other day. With his high hat on and carrying a walking stick, he had stepped upon the sidewalk when he slipped and landed flat upon the pavement with a thud that shocked him as well as caused embarrassment.

Just then another attorney who enjoys an equal distinction in the legal world passed and laughed at the fallen lawyer. When the latter was trying to get up he remarked to the other: "I guess I am getting old. My constitution will not stand what it did years ago."

As he arose to his feet his friend facetiously remarked, "Well, then, Dick, you ought to get an amendment to your constitution."

Looking at his friend with a cold stare, as cold as the ice he had fallen upon, he asked:

"Well, what kind of an amendment would you suggest, if you know so much?"

"I don't know exactly," was the reply. "I don't give advice to my clients without some kind of a retainer, but as you are an old friend of mine I would suggest a cushion or a mattress."—Minneapolis Journal.

Salt Water Cataracts.

There are a good many salt water cataracts in existence. They may be found in Norway, southern Chile and British Columbia, where narrow floras, or arms of the sea, are obstructed by barriers of rock. The rising tide flows over and filters through such reefs into the great natural reservoirs beyond, but the water is held back at the ebb until it breaks over the obstruction in an irresistible torrent. Most curious of all is the waterfall at Canoe Passage, where the island of Vancouver approaches the British Columbia mainland. Here the flood tide from the gulf of Georgia to the southward is held back at a narrow cleft between two islands until it pours over in a boiling cascade eighteen feet high, with perhaps double the volume of the Rhine. At the turn of the tide, however, the waters from the north rush back into the gulf, producing a cascade of equal height and volume. The waterfall actually flows both ways.

In the Spring.

The country schoolteacher had been telling her scholars about the seasons and their peculiarities, and to impress their minds with the facts she questioned them upon the points she had given. Several queries had been put, and finally she reached the stupid boy in the corner.

"Well, Johnny," she said, "have you been paying attention?"

"Yes'm," he answered promptly.

"I'm glad to hear it. Now, can you tell me what there is in the spring?"

"Yes'm, I can, but I don't want to." "Oh, yes, you do. Don't be afraid. You have heard the others. Be a good boy, now, and tell us what there is in the spring."

"W'y—w'y—mum, there's a frog an' a lizard an' a dead cat in it, but I didn't put 'em there. It was another boy, for I seen him do it."—Exchange.

Sending a Man to Coventry.

The expression "sending to Coventry" had a military origin. It arose, so it is said, in the days of Charles I., when the inhabitants of Coventry strongly objected to any intercourse with the military quartered in their town, and a woman known to speak to a man in a scarlet cloak was at once the subject of scandal. So rigid were the natives that the soldier was confined to the mess room for conversation. Thus the term "sending a man to Coventry" if you wished to shut him from society took root in the English language.—London Chronicle.

Distances at Sea.

That man was laughed at who on his first voyage said that the ocean did not look so large as he supposed it would, but he was not alone in experiencing disappointment. The horizon at sea gives no idea of the limitless water beyond. A sea captain declares that the average landsman cannot see more than ten miles from the ship in any direction, and it would have to be a mountain or some stationary object for him to be able to distinguish it.

The Free Riders.

"A good many people get on this earth who aren't worth the room they take up," said the cynical sociologist. "Yes," replied the eminent astronomer. "It's a good thing for many of us that we are not obliged to get aboard this whirling planet on a pay as you enter basis."—Washington Star.
